Environment SOP of NDRMF

NDRMF is an environmentally and socially responsible organization and has established a structured and systematic mechanism to address these issues as a core function of its management systems. The NDRMF management, at all levels, are fully committed to promote all its business operations by effectively managing environmental and social risks, whilst ensuring gender equality and enhancing beneficial impacts through implementation of following principles:

- Comply with applicable national laws, rules and regulations and ratified international conventions and agreements; and ensure their adequate integration in financing contractual agreements of all FIPs for compliance during all phases of the projects.
- Avoid, minimize and/or manage adverse environmental and social impacts and risks, in all its operations; particularly to environmentally sensitive and culturally important areas and people who may be affected as a result of projects' implementation.
- Adhere to principles of social inclusion, gender equality and equity.
- Communicate E&S SOP and principles to all staff, FIPs, Project Affected persons (PAPs), and external stakeholders, including both men and women; and ensure transparency in implementation of ESMS.
- No financing for projects with high risks that would cause adverse irreversible, long term environmental and social impacts.
- Encourage projects/schemes proposed under green financing.
